

Selling Real Estate Online

As a bank asset manager, real estate agent, builder or property owner, we invite you to try out our innovated and proven online real estate auction website for the sale of homes, condos, modular homes, land, resorts and any other type of real estate.

What is RealtyBidNow.com?

RealtyBidNow.com is an auction website specifically designed to work with sellers as an accelerated marketing approach using an online real estate bidding platform that creates buyer competition and urgency!

What is the cost to list a property?

The only fee required of a seller is a Marketing Fee and is currently set at $150 per property.

This fee is paid at the time of listing and prior to loading a property in the system. A credit card payment is required; you can conveniently make your payment on our website through PayPal.

How long are properties listed for bidding?

Properties are listed to bid online for a period of 90 days.

During this time buyers are also able to contact RealtyBidNow.com directly for the option to purchase the property immediately, by clicking on the "buy now" button.

How does RealtyBidNow.com get paid?

RealtyBidNow.com charges a 1.5% transaction fee to the Buyer through a "buyer's premium." The fee is calculated on the purchase price of the property.

Do I have to accept the highest bid?

No, all bids are "subject to seller confirmation"; the seller reserves the right to accept or reject all offers.
